

DAILY BUSINESS HEADLINES

www.charlotteusa.com

Statesville-Mooresville is No. 1 for new, expanding businesses (3/11/09) Statesville Record & Landmark - For the fourth time in five years, the Statesville-Mooresville micropolitan area has been ranked the No. 1 location nationally for new and expanding businesses by Site Selection magazine.

Council hears economic development plan (3/11/09) The Lancaster News - The majority of County Council, board members of the Lancaster County Economic Development Corp. and other county officials met to discuss a strategic economic plan.

Allen Tate is closing 25% of its offices (3/11/09) The Charlotte Observer - Allen Tate, with 1,700 Realtors and 300 employees, is consolidating operations of nearby offices but not exiting any markets, Pat Riley, the Charlotte firm's president, said Tuesday.

Experts advise developers to hang on until 2010 (3/11/09) The Charlotte Observer - Not much land development will occur here during the next two years and job losses will continue to plague the region, Charlotte economist Mark Vitner said Tuesday at one of the region's major commercial real estate outlook conferences.

For job hunters, persistence pays (3/10/09) The Charlotte Observer - Job-seekers have faced an increasingly dire market in recent months. But it's not all doom and gloom: Some people are finding work.

You are receiving this e-mail from the Charlotte Regional Partnership because you signed up at charlotteusa.com

View Archives | Forward to a friend | Unsubscribe Here

1001 Morehead Square Drive, Suite 200, Charlotte NC, 28209

